

LANDINGS WERE LARGELY COD

SMALL TRAWLERS AND GILL
NETTERS HAD 35,000 POUNDS
YESTERDAY

Over 35,000 pounds of fresh fish was landed here up to noon today by 18 trawlers and two druggers, most of the fish being cod, while 12 gill netters landed 16,000 pounds of cod for the market.

That's the healthiest report for the week, and judging from the fact that practically all the boats are out today. Monday should see a good supply of fish for the local dealers. The Carlo and Vence had the high fare here for the day, with 4000 pounds of mixed fish, while Capt. Roland Wonson's Virginia and Joan landed the best trip of cod in the gill net fleet, having 3000 pounds.

COAST GUARD AIDS SICK FISHERMAN

Aid of the Coast Guard to transport a sick man of the crew of the fishing vessel Cormorant, now off Georges bank, to the Chelsea Marine hospital, was asked of Base 18 at Woods Hole, yesterday in a radio message from Capt. Evans of the fishing craft.

The Coast Guard destroyer Osipee, now searching off Georges for the missing New Bedford fishing schooner, Mary, was ordered to the position of the Cormorant. Capt. Evans' message revealed no details except that a "sick man" was aboard.

BLOW UP DERELICT CRAFT ON GEORGES

The wreck of a schooner, sighted last week on the easterly edge of Georges Banks, some 200 miles south-east of Boston, was blown apart yesterday by the Coast Guard cutter Cayuga. Mines containing high explosives were dropped near the derelict, which when they exploded blew wreckage into the air. Two masts and a spar projecting above the surface were laid flat, and the cutter's officers were trying to identify them.

INJURIES FATAL TO

WELL-KNOWN SKIPPER

Skipper of fishing vessels out of Boston and Gloucester for many years, Capt. George C. Sherburne, 76, died in the Cape Cod hospital at Hyannis, yesterday, from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile Thursday night in Winter street.

Capt. Sherburne was a native of Shapleigh, Me., and began his seafaring career as a boy. The vessels he commanded included the Edith A. Ripple and Albert Gyger. He came to Hyannis 25 years ago. For many years he captained an excursion steamer between Oak Bluffs and Gay Head.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Annie Sanborn, of Amesbury and Mrs. Sadie Gifford, of Cotuit, and two sons, Wilbur and Everett.

Portland Notes.

The little sch. Bernie and Bessie, Capt. Charles Dexter, landed 8000 pounds of groundfish at Portland Friday and several small boats brought in their catches, but the rest of the fleet hadn't returned at dark. They were expected in during last evening after the third set this month.

N. S. Notes.

Sch. Agnes McGlashen is loading fish at La Have, N. S., for Porto Rico.

On Halibut Trip.

The sch. American, Capt. Simon Theriault, which left this week on a halibut trip, will fit out at the Progressive Fish Company at the Fort when in port. Capt. Theriault is bound for Shelburne, N. S., to complete his dory equipment, and from there will make for the Grand Banks to christen his recently-purchased craft in collecting halibut.

Going Halibuting.

The schooner Mary A., owned by O'Hara Brothers company, is now at Boston fitting out for halibut fishing, and will shortly go out in charge of Capt. Clifford Goodwin. She will operate in South Channel and on the Rips.
